Les médiations thérapeutiques qui utilisent le corps comme vecteur d'expression sont-elles une bonne indication pour aider les adolescents qui vont mal ? A partir de son expérience clinique auprès d'adolescents en souffrance qui, par le biais de médiations telles que la danse, la psychomotricité ou la relaxation, ont trouvé des espaces thérapeutiques privilégiés, l'auteur élabore une réflexion approfondie sur les enjeux d'un travail thérapeutique à médiation corporelle. Un ouvrage théorico-clinique bienvenu sur un sujet encore peu exploré. Catherine Potel est psychomotricienne, thérapeute en ambulatoire (CMPP et pratique privée).
