In/Visible Voices of Women est un projet de collaboration découlant d'une préoccupation commune pour la production et la transmission de savoir dans le domaine de l'art. Constatant l'absence de travaux approfondis sur la pratique de femmes artistes basées en Afrique francophone et lusophone, ce livre est une réponse à la question urgente suivante : quel sujet appelant un engagement critique, semble occulté ou absent du monde de l'édition et pourrait tirer avantage de subjectivités alternatives ? In/Visible Voices of Women est un livre d'artiste mettant en vedette Safaa Erruas, Nadia Kaabi-Linke, Nicène Kossentini, Amina Menia et Zineb Sedira, cinq artistes établies/à mi-carrière d'héritage africain francophone qui, au moment de la conception du projet en 2015, répondaient au critère de manque de textes contextuels accessibles, notamment en anglais. Les interviews et essais produits dans ce cadre, pour la plupart non publiés à ce jour, visent à sensibiliser généreusement les lecteurs à la singularité de chaque artiste, à son univers et à sa voix, en relation aux préoccupations contemporaines les plus pointues. La constellation de la « grammaire » de ces cinq femmes apporte de la diversité, sollicite la production de connaissances et l'engagement social.
